MVSEVM BRITAN NICVM

398

398

Moscow, August 28.

HIS Excellency the Lord Tyrawly, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from the King of Great Britain, having, by a Memorial presented to the Empress, made a formal Requisition of the Succour of 12,000 Men, due to his said Majesty by the Treaty of 1742, her Imperial Majesty has been pleased to return a favourable Answer to his Excellency, declaring her Resolution to fulfil her Engagements towards his Britannick Majesty, and her having, in Consequence thereof, actually appointed a Body of 12,000 Russian Troops, to be provided with Artillery, and all other Necessaries, in order to their being employed in pursuance of the Stipulations in the said Treaty.

Vienna, Sept. 23. By the last Letters from Bohemia, it appears, that the whole Town of Prague, with its Citadel, was given up to the Prussians the 17th. The Reasons of General Harsch's Conduct therein are not yet precisely known, but he is expected here as this Day, to justify his having so soon surrendered himself, and above 15,000 Men, Prisoners of War, contrary to his own Intentions and Resolutions on the 16th, which were to abandon the Old and New Towns only, and to retire with his Garison into the little Side, and the Wischerad. All that is hitherto known, is, that General Harsch finding his Militia intimidated with the Prussian Fire, and the Burghers who had enrolled themselves, more employed in extinguishing the Flames of their Houses, than in mounting the Ramparts, offer'd, on the 15th, to capitulate, on Condition of saving the Town and his Garison, and obtained an Armistice for the 16th, during which Day, the King of Prussia raised the most formidable Battery that has been known in any Age; and playing it on the 17th, in the Morning, at the same Time that he signified his ultimate Pleasure to have the Garison Prisoners of War, the Commandant surrendered a few Hours afterwards. Seven hundred Waldiners, and a Company of Grenadiers, could hardly be induced to lay down their Arms like the rest; with these and other Regular Troops, who would certainly have followed, not to mention 1300 Prussian Deserters who were in the Town, it is thought, that M. Harsch might have retired into the Wischerad. After this Conquest, the King of Prussia having collected all his Army together, excepting 6000 Men left at Prague, advanc'd, according to the News which arrived last Night, more than two Posts up the Mulda, as far as Networzitz, on this Side of the River Zasawa; and General Bathiani, who is retired to Cherowitz, and has an advanc'd Post of 4000 Men at Krasmhora, to observe the Prussians, writes, that it was doubtful whether they intended to cross the Mulda, enter the Mountains to the West of that River, and there wait for the Austrian Army, which was to enter Bohemia Yesterday, or to extend themselves up the Mulda quite to Budweis. Prince Charles will set out this Afternoon to join Marshal Traun at Waldmunchen.

Berlin, Sept. 29. There is no Sort of News from the Armies in Bohemia since the Surrender of Prague. Baron Pelnitz was taken into Custody here some Days ago, and is in close Confinement; the Reason is not made publick.

Camp of Avelgem, October 3. On the 29th of last Month the Confederate Army marched from the Camp of Anstein, whereupon we had Intelligence, that Count Saxe was marched with a Body of 12 or 14,000 Men, and a Train of Artillery, to post himself at Pont Espiere, St. Leger, and other Places on the Banks of the River Espiere. We continued our March the next Day towards Tournay, and on our Arrival at the Camp near that Town, two Deserters came in from Pont Espiere, with a Confirmation of the above-mentioned Advice; upon which, it was resolved to march the next Morning at Break of Day, in order to attack the Enemy; but upon our Arrival at the Village of Pecq, the Peasants informed us, that on the Appearance of some Hussars, the Day before, about Noon, they had retired with great Precipitation towards Courtrai, believing them to be Forerunners of the Confederate Army. Count Saxe, who had conducted the French Detachment himself to Pont Espiere, returned to Courtrai after seeing them posted, and left the Command, for the Time they staid there, to the Marquis de Fenelon. They came without their Tents, and were continually employed in cutting down Trees, and in fortifying the Passes. We shall continue our March To-morrow towards Oudenarde.

Hague, October 6. This Morning the States General nominated M. Kalkoen to be their Minister Plenipotentiary to the King of Poland; and, at the same time, appointed M. Twickle to repair to the Court of the Elector of Cologn. By the freshest Advices from Flanders it appears, that Count Saxe, upon the Allied Army's pursuing its March down the left Side of the Schelde, had not thought fit to stand his Ground at Pont Espiere, but returned on the 1st Inst. to his old Post at Courtrai. We learn, that the King of Prussia had turned to his Right, and regained the Malda at Tabor; and that P. Charles's Army had reached Pilsen the 28th past, whilst the Saxon Auxiliary Corps, reinforc'd with 3000 Ulans, was to enter Bohemia by the Way of Egra, on the 3d Instant. The French having found Means to drain or turn the River that surrounds good Part of the Works of Fribourg, are said to have opened their Trenches in the very Bed of it. It is strongly given out, that the French King will still assist at this Siege in Person. Count Golofkin, the Russian Ambassador here, has acquitted himself to the Dutch Ministers, and the President of the Week, of the Orders he has receiv'd from his Court, to declare his Mistress's Intentions of performing her Engagements to his Britannick Majesty.

The following is a Copy of the last Memorial presented by the Count de Seipsheim, Ambassador from his Imperial Majesty to their High Mightinesses.

High and Mighty Lords,

'The Emperor, my Master, since his Accession to 'the Throne, has had constantly at Heart the cultivate- 'ing that Harmony and good Intelligence which has al- 'ways subsisted between the Emperors and Empire on 'the one Hand, and your Republick on the other. From 'this Principle, and with a View of giving the strong- 'est Proofs of his Confidence and Friendship towards 'your High Mightinesses, his Imperial Majesty has or- 'der'd me to communicate to you the Treaty of Union, 'which his Imperial Majesty has lately concluded 'with some of the principal Powers of the Empire; 'and to which, he is desirous their High Mightinesses 'should accede. This Treaty, as your High Mighti- 'nesses will perceive by the Copy hereunto annexed, has 'no other Tendency, than to secure to the Empire its 'ancient and legal Constitution, the Emperor, my Ma- 'ster, in the Possession of the Imperial Dignity, to re- 'establish the Repose of Germany, and to terminate, 'by an amicable Composition, or by a legal Decision, 'the Differences that have arisen about the Succession 'of the House of Austria. His Imperial Majesty pro- 'mises himself from the Friendship of your High Migh- 'tinesses, and from that sincere Desire that you have al- 'ways testified towards contributing, all in your Power, 'to the Restoration of publick Peace, that you will con- 'cur in promoting so laudable a Design, and in further- 'ing Views that are so just and salutary. My Satis- 'faction will be absolutely complete in acquitting my- 'self of these Orders, if your High Mightinesses, ani- 'mated by that Spirit of Equity and Peace which you 'have always professed, shall correspond with that Con- 'fidence his Imperial Majesty places in your Wisdom, 'and in your Affection for the general Tranquillity. And 'I shall think myself happy, in having employ'd my 'Ministry in knitting closer the Ties of an Union, so 'natural as that is between the Emperor and Empire, 'and the United Provinces.'

LONDON.

Private Advices from Franckfort say, that his Imperial Majesty has caused some Propositions, of a very extraordinary Nature, to be made to the King of Poland, in order to prevent his Majesty's directing the Saxon Troops joining the the Queen of Hungary; but that his Polish Majesty had cavily refused to enter into the Discussion of the Proposition made him, by declaring, that he had already taken his Measures, and could not alter them.

There are Letters from Ratisbon of the 1st of October, which say, that the Austrians have abandon'd Donawert, and that Count Seckendorff had taken Possession of it.

There are some Letters from Dantzick which mention a Body of 12,000 Russians entering Poland, in order, in Conjunction with a Body of Polish Troops, to make an Irruption into the Dominions of the King of Prussia.——But perhaps this merits Confirmation.

According to the last Accounts from Vienna, 300 Men of the Regiment of Vivan, who were in Garison at Prague, have taken Service with the King of Prussia; which occasions much Speculation.

Two Lieutenant-Colonels of the French Troops in Italy have been taken by the Piedmontese Peasants; and as the French have made a constant Practice of hanging the Peasants, the Prince of Conti is a little apprehensive they will lay hold of this Opportunity of making Reprizals.

Yesterday John Jesse, Esq; of Clement's Lane, was married to Miss Wood, only Daughter of ——— Wood, Esq, of Staffordshire.

We are inform'd that a Party of the Foot Guards will patrole in the Strand, and other Parts of the City and Liberty of Westminster, in the Night-time, in order to prevent Street Robberies.

Last Saturday, about Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, John Steel, Richard Dean, John Mead, and James Knapp, were committed to the Gatehouse, Westminster, by Richard Manley, Esq; for breeding a Riot, and beating and abusing Mr. Gregg, and other Inhabitants of Bow-street, Westminster. They pretended they were Sailors, and stripp'd themselves naked, in order to be upon the Defensive, and in that Manner were carried to Jail.

Last Friday Night some Fellows broke into the Shop of Mr. Newbolt, a Watchmaker in St. Andrew's Street, near the Seven Dials; and he happening to come down Stairs at the same time, the Villains cut him down the Scull, and he died on the Spot.

The same Evening, about 8 o'Clock, Mr. Hawkings, a Joiner, was attacked near the Black Horse in Tottenham Court Road, by four Ruffians; who robb'd him of a Silver Watch, and 15 Shillings.

A few Days since Henry Byndlass, late of the Inner Temple, Esq; a Jamaica Gentleman, of a considerable Estate, was married at Bristol, to Miss Taylor of that Place.

Last Friday died at Hummerton, Anthony Stocker, Esq; a Gentleman of a large Estate.

As he says, he is confirmed in this by a Physician of great Worth and Candor, who has great Opportunities of dealing in such Cases, by his Practice in Midwifery. See p. 182.'
